

Published Author and Founder of the Global Centre of Indigenomics to Present at Global First Nations Carbon Summit

Regina, Saskatchewan – September 12, 2022 – Carbon RX Inc. (“Carbon RX”) announces Carol Anne Hilton will be the closing keynote speaker at the Global First Nations Carbon Summit held October 3rd, 2022.

Carol Anne is of Nuu-chah-nulth descent from the Hesquiaht First Nation on Vancouver Island and is a dynamic national leader with an international MBA from the University of Hertfordshire, England.

She wrote the book Indigenomics: Taking a Seat at the Economic Table and is the founder and CEO of The Indigenomics Institute. Carol Anne has been leading conversations on the application of Indigenous involvement in economic reconciliation in Canada and is a practical visionary when it comes to the economic prosperity of First Nations communities.

The Global First Nations Carbon Summit will take place on Treaty 4 Land in Regina, Saskatchewan on October 3, 2022. The Summit will include a series of high-powered speakers featuring topics on carbon reduction strategies, the role of First Nations in the carbon economy, and the importance of First Nations environmental sovereignty. The joining of these concepts is the basis of "Indigenomics", which sets to return First Nations access to a modern economy while maintaining a traditional way of life.

The Global First Nations Carbon Summit will feature the perspectives and insights of those who are taking steps to address carbon reduction through the application of technology, land use and other practices in a meaningful way. The Summit is available in person or via Zoom link. For more information and to register go to www.TheCarbonSummit.com
